

Tears

I don't know how many tears I have cried.

An ocean full of them!

Water in which I was born,
where I swam to develop and live.

In my truth,

I take responsibility for every moment.

This moment is no longer unbelievable for me,
it is real.

I live in order to die,
I die in order to live.

I am pure love, darkness and light
Every-thing and no-thing.
It will be fine.
